

Stream Farm, Rainbow Trout Farmer

About Stream Farm

Stream Farm is a 260-acre organic farm nestled in a hidden valley high up in the Quantocks in Somerset. We are certified Organic and Pasture for Life, and focussed on sustainable, regenerative farming practices. We produce organic beef, lamb, pork, chicken, eggs, apple juice and raw honey, along with stream-fed fresh and oak-smoked rainbow trout, selling direct to customers.

The vision for the farm is to profitably support several different farming businesses, enabling those who want to farm to join, for a period of time, in order to gain experience and learn how to run a sustainable farming enterprise. Alongside this we are passionate about reconnecting consumers with producers, undoing the damage caused by the supermarkets.

Central to the vision of the farm is our active Christian faith, which, shared by those who farm here, underpins all we do

The Role

The Rainbow Trout business at Stream Farm produces oak-smoked fillets and whole fresh fish, reared in four ponds on the farm, for a variety of customers, including door-to-door sales, restaurants, butchers and shops.

As the trout farmer you would take responsibility for the day-to-day running of the business, under the supervision of the Farm Managers. This includes processing of the oak-smoked and fresh trout, stock taking and record keeping, pond maintenance, husbandry, and other work as necessary. On occasion you may be required to help with wider work across the farm.

The role is best suited to someone with good attention to detail, who enjoys working outdoors, as part of a wider team shaped by a common bond of faith in Jesus. Full training will be provided so previous experience, whilst desirable, is not necessary. Of greater importance is a positive attitude and a willingness to learn. The role is physically demanding, so a good level of fitness is required.
